NEWS & REVIEWS

TYPHOON ON NPR

NPR streams Typhoon's full set from the 2011 Sasquatch Music Festival! "With an arsenal of strings and brass, the band produces a joyous, uplifting sound ... songs that celebrate and affirm life."

RHYS CHATHAM IN THE WIRE NSE 4

"Chatham was the initial music curator of Lower Manhattan's The Kitchen during the 1970s ... His new record evokes many performers he booked at The Kitchen—Laurie Spiegel, Tony Conrad, La Monte Young—yet retains its own character in the longer run. A neat trick, this, the better for being achieved with deceptively casual grace."

COSMIC LIEDER—DOWNBEAT EDITOR'S PICK AUM 66

"However much of the disc is improvised or through-composed, their conversation never stops taking unexpected turns ... While the album's title indicates the galactic perceptions of Sun Ra, 'Overvoid' emphasizes that Jones and Shipp's focus is on creating the right kind of punctuation within musical space on this planet."

INDEPENDENCE FOR INDEPENDENTS

THE BIRTHDAY MASSACRE

IMAGINARY MONSTERS

SELLING POINTS

- Previous release, Pins and Needles, debuted at #152 on the Billboard Top 200.
- EP features three original tracks and five remixes from top names in the genre.
- Includes video for "In The Dark."
- TBM has a strong online presence on all major social networking sites.
- Facebook ad campaign to coincide with release.
- Radio servicing through RDR Music Group.
- Full servicing to press, radio, and club DJs.
- RIYL: Evanescence, Ayria, Cruxshadows, Lacuna Coil.

OVERVIEW

Following up on the success of the most recent album Pins and Needles, The Birthday Massacre returns with Imaginary Monsters, a new EP consisting of three all-new songs and five remixes. The three new songs—"Forever," "Burn Away," and "Left Behind"—find the band at its creative apex. Dark, personal, and atmospheric, The Birthday Massacre builds its compelling blend of gothic, rock, and electronic music into a totally unique sound. To give the fans another perspective, The Birthday Massacre had five colleagues offer distinctive perspectives on tracks from Pins and Needles: SKOLD, Combichrist, tweaker, Assemblage 23, and Kevvy Mental & Dave Ogilvie add their own spin to TBM's distinctive style.

PRESS QUOTES

"From the opening chords of 'In The Dark' to the final chimes of 'Secret,' Chibi and the boys have once again ventured down the rabbit hole and created a magical soundscape." — Revenant Media

"The Birthday Massacre is the kind of band you listen to until your CD won't read anymore and bad sectors appear on your hard drive." — Abort Mag

DANCE OR DIE

NOSTRADAMNATION (LIMITED EDITION)

SELLING POINTS

- Legends of the dark electro scene, with club hits “Psychoburbia” and “Dance Or Die” still in rotation.
- Limited edition two-disc release.
- Features remixes by Solitary Experiments and Miss Construction.
- Facebook ad campaign to coincide with release.
- Street teams will distribute promotional materials in select markets.
- Full servicing to press, radio, and club DJs.
- RIYL: And One, X Marks The Pedwalk, Syntec.

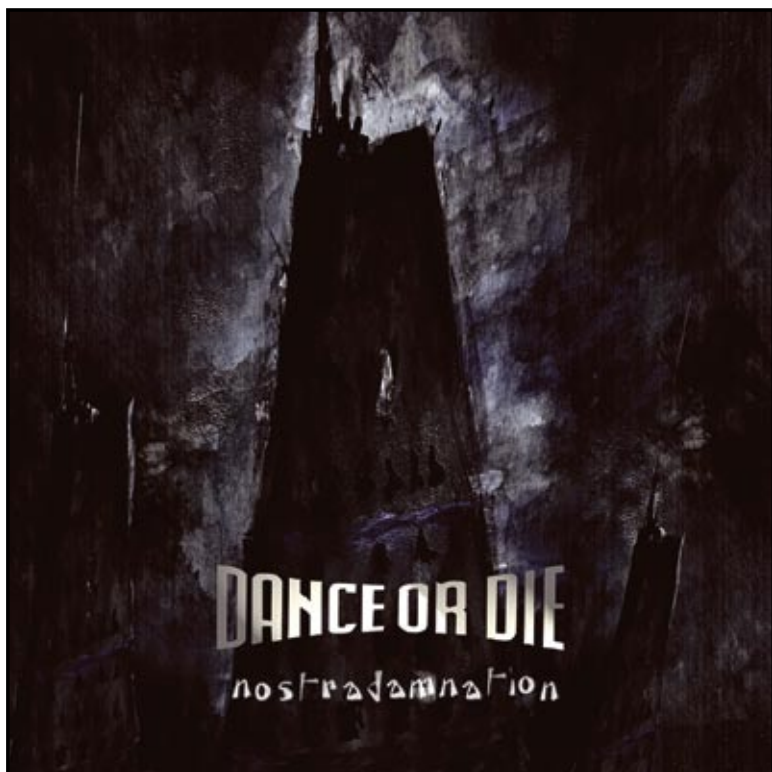

OVERVIEW

Berlin-based dark electro legend Dance Or Die returns! On Nostradamnation, members Wagner and A.N.G.O. (joined by Chris L. from Agonoize live) combine dark atmospheres with massive beats, deep vocals, aggression, and melody in their unique way.

The group’s sinister, dance-floor-compatible visions of impending apocalypse stand out from the faceless crowd of bland carbon copies that make up the electro scene. Nostradamnation marks the impressive return of a band that, in the ’90s, provided a link between the gothic and electro scenes like no other, and whose unique fusion of styles left a distinct imprint on the club music of the time. Even now, two decades after the group’s debut, Dance Or Die’s sound is fresh, original, and unmatched.

The new album is released as a double CD. The first disc contains 15 brand-new classics, while the bonus disc features club-compatible remixes of some of the band’s cult classics (by Solitary Experiments and Miss Construction, to name but a few). Tracks like “Psychoburbia” and the seminal “Dance Or Die”—still mandatory spins at EBM clubs—are presented in altogether new light.

SELLING POINTS

- Born in 1971, Pierre Jodlowski studied classical music in Toulouse. Since 1992 he has specialized in instrumental & electroacoustic composition after meeting such composers as Pierre Henry, Jonathan Harvey, and Emmanuel Nunes.
- Winner of various prizes including the Mixed Music Prix De Bourges (2000) and the Claude Arrieu Prize at the SACEM Spring Awards (2002).

OVERVIEW

After studies at the Lyon Conservatory and IRCAM, Pierre Jodlowski founded the collective éOle and the Novelum Festival in Toulouse. His activities as a composer have taken him to many venues in France and elsewhere, for new music as well dance, theater, the plastic arts, and electronic music. His work is spread over a number of domains, and beyond his musical universe Jodlowski works with images, interactive programming, and staging. He asserts the practice of a music that is "active" in both its physical dimension (gestures, energies, spaces) and its psychological dimension (evocation, memory, cinematographic aspect).

OVERVIEW

Finally, almost four years after great debut Burning Heave, Canadian project Distorted Memory releases a powerful follow-up! Swallowing the Sun comes up with a more mature sound than the first album, moving away from terror EBM into darker, more organic dark electro sound with a large tribal/ethnic element. Perfectly integrated old-school elements combine for a timeless album with epic, powerful choruses.

PRESS QUOTES

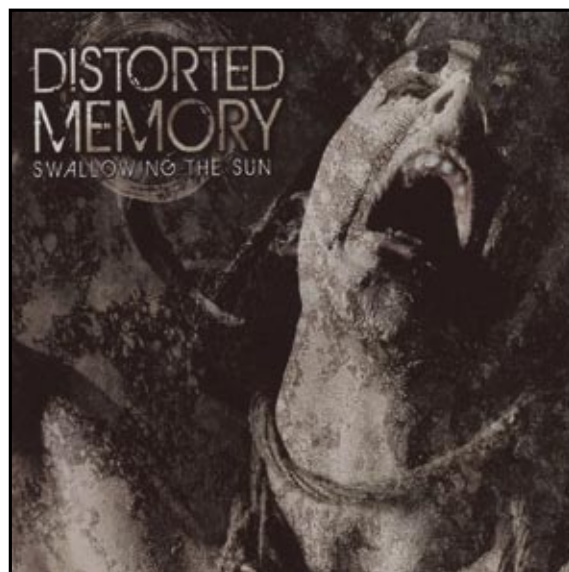

"A dance floor killer in the industrial world. Hard-hitting bass lines and epic ensembles clash to make some very angry stomping."

OVERVIEW

Graduates of the school of obscure '90s indie rock, Sleeping Bag's minimal aesthetic marries modern classics with a refined artistic sensibility. On their self-titled debut, Sleeping Bag has crafted a batch of 11 simplistic pop epics. These are songs that, as streamlined and basic as they are, seem to gain value with each listen. Simplicity without boredom—it's a rare & precious thing.

PRESS QUOTES

SELLING POINTS

- This brand-new reissue replaces GRA 68 (647216606826).
- An essential collection of Ruins' earliest recordings!
- RIYL: Naked City, Fantomas, Slayer, King Crimson, High On Fire.

OVERVIEW

Japan's drum(s) and bass duo Ruins is renowned around the globe for its mind-bendingly fast and complex hyper-progressive rock onslaught. Hardcore, psych, speed metal, art rock, funk—all are incorporated into the music, but what comes out is irrefutably original. On 1986–1992, we unearth the band's earliest material, much of which is long out of print and never heard by Western audiences. Ruins founder Yoshida Tatsuya has extensively remixed and remastered 23 songs from the band's first seven years, including their debut 7", the cut from the NGII compilation, tracks from the first 12" EP, selections from their debut LP, and remixed "best of" tracks from the Stonehenge and Burning Stone LPs.

OVERVIEW

With releases on DNT, Gilgongo, and SKiN GRAFT, Gay Beast has garnered a reputation for uniqueness on the rock fringe, their sound being both too weird for the stereotype of a "gay band" and "too gay" for the noise-rock set. Upon examination of the influence blender, one finds remnants of Devo, Captain Beefheart, equatorial pop-rock from the '60s and '70s, No-Wave, and feminist theory. This concoction, delivered via Gay Beast's unique political approach to composition, is explored heavily on their third album To Smithereens.

SHRIMP BOAT SOMETHING GRAND

PRESS QUOTES

"Reveals a band not so much ahead of the herd as way beyond it ... playfully following their own rules and still dazzling over a decade later."
— MOJO Underground Album of the Month ★★★★★

"Epic ... deep and powerful ... full of surprises ... immensely satisfying." — Other Music

"Manna, obsessively and lovingly circumscribed manna from heaven." — No Depression

"Shrimp Boat's unique fusion of jazz, bluegrass, folk, rock, and just about everything in between made it a pioneering touchstone of the Chicago '90s music scene. Something Grand is a beautifully packaged boxed set that documents each stage of the idiosyncratic group's evolution." — Chicago Tribune

"The Chicago post-rock scene of the Nineties—the pneumatic rhapsodies of Tortoise, the chamber pop of The Sea and Cake, the tone poetry of Gastr del Sol—starts here, with the twisted-country and art-garage games of local legends Shrimp Boat."

PRESS QUOTES

"Now that the original Fantastic Four have buckled, only these real-life comic punk superheroes remain intact—Peelanders Red, Yellow, Green, and Pink. Japanese New Yorkers, the PZ prog-pop monkeys found their calling on last year's children's CD P-TV-Z, for Austin indie Chicken Ranch Records." — Austin Chronicle

"Standing on the sidelines is not an option when Peelander-Z hits the stage." — Time Out

"As the diverse crowds in each performance can testify, Peelander-Z is more than just punk rock for anime nerds ... Anyone with a lust for creative ridiculousness and hilarious absurdity will enjoy Peelander-Z, who have brought an interesting Japanese/American/superhero hybrid to eager audiences, forged their niche putting a totally unique spin on punk rock, and probably gotten laid more than once in the process." — PunkNews.org

"Panda punk RAWK, samurai action stars who could kick the Power Rangers' asses any day of the year ... they put on the most unbelievably fun shows (as anyone at this year's SXSW could have told you)." — Razorcake

PAUL MOTIAN

THE WINDMILLS OF YOUR MIND

SELLING POINTS

- Vocals by Petra Haden (That Dog, The Decemberists), who has contributed to recordings by Beck, Mike Watt, Luscious Jackson, Foo Fighters, Green Day, Queens of the Stone Age, Weezer, and many more.
- One of the leading guitarists in jazz, Bill Frisell has recorded with Jan Garbarek, Kermit Driscoll, Joey Baron, and more. He provided music for the TV version of friend Gary Larson's popular comic The Far Side.
- Paul Motian, who came to prominence with the pioneering trio of pianist Bill Evans, is one of the most influential modern drummers. He has played with, among others, Thelonious Monk, Chris Cheek, Tony Malaby, Lee Konitz, Joshua Redman, and Brad Shepik.

OVERVIEW

In March 2011, Paul Motian celebrated his 80th birthday. On this celebratory album, Motian presents Broadway hits like "I Loves You Porgy" alongside original compositions. The artistic collaboration with Bill Frisell and Thomas Morgan is a great musical gift for all lovers of Motian's music, and the lovely vocals of Petra Haden, Charlie Haden's daughter, complete this new quartet.

This is a special musical event not just because Motion presents this quartet for the very first time, but also because producer Stefan Winter worked completely without any digital equipment or sound effects. The album is an extraordinary live-to-analog two-track production, wherein the unique momentum of the performance is the focus. The original analog tape is the one and only master.

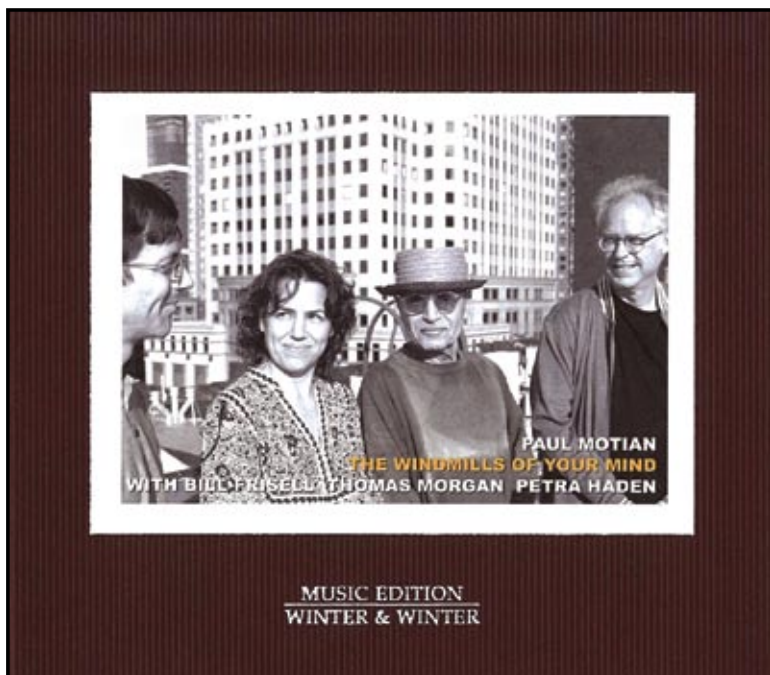

PRESS QUOTES

"[Petra Haden is] a daydreaming geek girl who sings like an angel." — Pitchfork

"[Paul Motian's] drumming is as amazing as ever." — Dusted

"Petra Haden's vocals, alone or with some judiciously deployed overdubbed harmonizing, move with a fluidity that is perfectly mirrored in Bill Frisell's guitar phrasing and sonorities." — Amazon Editorial Review

"Among jazz guitarists, Frisell is unique in his exploitation of variable timbre ... and although his work is steeped in jazz, Frisell is a man of catholic tastes. His music includes characteristics of rock, country, and bluegrass, among various other styles." — All Music Guide

OVERVIEW

Synastry is a collaboration between groundbreaking vocalist Jen Shyu and master bassist Mark Dresser that demonstrates new possibilities for jazz singing. Shyu, a member of influential saxophonist Steve Coleman's Five Elements, is well known for her tonally exacting and rhythmically incisive singing. On Synastry, accompanied only by Dresser's acoustic bass, her voice is thrown into stark relief, giving full evidence to her complete control of microtonal shadings, deep sense of rhythm, and highly developed ear for lyrical and melodic improvisation. In addition to English and Chinese, she sings in a wholly improvised vocalese that utilizes phonemes derived from her mastery of seven different languages learned through her studies of indigenous music in Indonesia, East Timor, Taiwan, Brazil, and Cuba. Dresser, who is well known for using extended technique to tap the full sonic potential of the acoustic bass, envelops Shyu's voice in an aura of intimate mystery.

PRESS QUOTES

"Shyu's ability to hear dissonance, melody, and every inch of her own compositions allowed her to take on the role of both storyteller and instrumentalist, through her voice." — All About Jazz

"The key member of the line-up is arguably vocalist Jen Shyu. She has a unique tone, one that is both masculine and feminine, sliding between contralto and soprano, to bring as much ardour as grace to arrangements." — BBC

DEAD BLACK HEARTS

THE SOUTHERN FRONT

SELLING POINTS

- Piano and guitar-driven indie-pop featuring unconventional songs with odd changes.
- Broad reach to radio.
- Physical mailings to press, blogs, and more.
- Promotional items to indie stores including promos and posters.
- Massive digital campaign via email marketing with a reach of over 4,500 contacts.
- Heavy promotion in Austin at Waterloo Records, KUT, Do512, Republic of Austin, and other outlets.
- RIYL: Arcade Fire, Radiohead, Autolux, Interpol.

OVERVIEW

From the anthemic “How to Win an Argument” to the introspective “Postcard from Somewhere Cold,” The Southern Front is a tight set of cohesive yet distinct indie rock songs taking influences from acts like Wolf Parade, Arcade Fire, The Secret Machines, and the Beatles.

Since their previous EP, Five Gallant Steeds, Dead Black Hearts has played live shows with the likes of Heartless Bastards, Electric Six, and Civil Twilight—all the while refining their use of multiple harmonic vocal lines and musical counterpoint to make The Southern Front catchy and instantly engaging, with subtleties that reveal themselves after each listen.

Self-produced in Austin, TX and mixed at Public Hi-Fi (Spoon, Mates of State), the atmosphere is roomy and organic, incorporating layered guitars, keys, brass, bass, distinct percussion, and claps ... oh, the claps.

- Previous album was critically well received, and has long been an Important Records favorite.
- Nathan Vollmar has played with Jandek, while Francesco Candura plays with Jennifer Gentle (Sub Pop).
- Heavy-duty press mailing via Important Records.

OVERVIEW

Important Records is proud to release the fourth album, and second for the label, from Nathan Amundson's Rivulets. With a beautifully authentic emotional depth, Nathan's voice is his most compelling instrument, a tool for delivering pure emotion from his heart. Representing five years of work and nearly constant touring, this album reflects the intense nature of Rivulets as a three-piece. If you haven't seen them on tour, this album will come as a revelation—recorded, appropriately, at the Sacred Heart Music Center, a cathedral built in the late 19th century.

PRESS QUOTES

Nothing more can be said about one of the greatest bands to ever come out of England.

The only modern title in this batch, this is hands down the best record I've heard front to back in years. The lush falsetto harmonies start with the opening track "I See Two Eyes," followed by the Beach Boys-esque (I don't use that lightly) harmonies on the next track "Lazy Minds Die." The instrumentation is dense but crystalline. The production is astounding. Whenever I've played this record for people, it immediately takes over one's attention. Please play this in store.

A band I followed in the early '90s after a high school friend released 1994's Flying suit. That same label just reissued Flying suit and did a retrospective, Finest specimens, that featured a couple of songs from this record. You're Not a Dream was overlooked the first time around, but the band is recording more music these days and this is a fine time to revisit this release—much less quirky than previous efforts, but with the same ornate instrumentation and vocals.
